WORKPLACE HEALTH & WELLBEING STRATEGY

After assessment employees receive a confidential health check report (on the SAME day) highlighting improvement areas and valuable advice. An Organisational Health Check Report is also provided (segmented by location, department etc) with recommendations.

It is from here that you can develop a proactive Workplace Health & Wellbeing Strategy to support organisational development.

By setting baseline data it is possible to measure annual changes and this information can be used alongside sickness absence data, staff turnover and other key performance indicators to measure the effectiveness of a wellbeing programme.
